

Dr. Corey Wiggins

Dr. Corey Wiggins, a native of Hazlehurst, MS, is currently the Director of the Mississippi Economic Policy Center and Senior Consultant with the i-Think Group, a public health and health policy-consulting firm. He also serves as a Visiting Assistant Professor of Health Policy and Management at Jackson State University.

Dr. Wiggins's previous experiences include serving as Barbara Jordan Health Policy Fellow in the U.S. Senate, managing a national research study aimed at understanding racial and geographical differences in stroke, providing technical assistance to community-based organizations and health care organizations on program infrastructure and chronic disease prevention and serving as a policy analyst for the Mississippi State Legislature. In addition to his diverse experiences in academia, research, advocacy and government, His academic degrees include a Bachelor of Science in Biology from Alcorn State University and both a Master of Science in Public Health with an emphasis in Health Policy and a Ph.D. in Health Promotion from the University of Alabama at Birmingham.

Dr. Wiggins and his wife Dr. Shenekia Wiggins currently live in Jackson, MS along with their two boys Corey James and Carson George.

