

Fred Redmond, United Steelworkers International Vice President

Fred Redmond has been the USW International Vice President (Human Affairs) since 2006.

Mr. Redmond joined the Steelworkers Union when he went to work at Reynolds Metals Co. in McCook, IL in 1973. He worked his way up through the ranks of his local from a shop steward, a grievance committee member and chairman, and then to local union vice-president. He served three terms as president of USWA Local 3911. Before his 2005 election to his current position, Mr. Redmond represented USW members in Illinois and Indiana as a staff person and then as an Assistant to the District Director.

He serves as Chairman of the USW Container Industry Conference and coordinates bargaining for the USW Healthcare, Pharmaceuticals and Public Employee sectors. Mr. Redmond also serves as Chairman of USW's Civil and Human Rights Department and is joint chairman of USW's Next Generation Program.

In 2007, he was elected to the board of directors for Working America, served as Regional Representative for the Mid-west region of the Coalition of Black Trade Unionist (CBTU), and was appointed to the AFL-CIO Executive Council in 2008. Fred is a board member of the Interfaith Workers Justice and the National Endowment for Democracy. He also serves as chairman of the board of directors of the A. Philip Randolph Institute (APRI).
